LORD SACKVILLE

Invited to Resign His Post and Retire to Private Life.

His Accession to the Peerage to Serve as an Excuse for His Retirement—He Will Never Get Another Diplomatic Appointment.

[From our Own Correspondent.]

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 28.—The Tribune announces to-day that William A. Bell, lawyer, chairman of the Pomona republican club, is the author of the letter to West signed "Murchison," and he also wrote similar letters to Joseph Chamberlain, Sir Charles Tupper, and other prominent Canadian officials.

THE "TIMES" HAS A GOOD WORD TO SAY.

LONDON, Oct. 28.—The Times says: "It seems certain that Americans have taken a step to render it impossible for Lord Sackville to remain longer in Washington. We are not prepared to censure Lord Sackville. A British minister, whether in Washington or elsewhere, must be an English gentleman and may be forgiven if he is not up to the tricks of American politicians."

AMOUNTS TO THE SAME THING.

The Standard says: "America has not asked for the recall of Lord Sackville, but has taken a step little short of that."

CANNOT BE ALLOWED TO EMBROIL THE NATION.

The Telegraph says: "Nothing can excuse the inconsistency of Lord Sackville's pen except his transparent good faith and candor. He cannot, however, be allowed to embroil the nation."

SOME BLUNDERS WORSE THAN CRIMES.

The Daily News says: "Lord Sackville has nothing to be ashamed of, but some blunders are worse than crimes."

NEW YORK, Oct. 29.—A London cablegram to the Evening Sun to-day says: "This afternoon Lord Salisbury sent from the foreign office a message in cipher to Lord Sackville, suggesting that his accession to the peerage and increased responsibilities of a private nature would offer sufficient excuse for his retirement from his post at Washington. Lord Sackville is almost sure to accept this chance for a half backdown, if not his recall is certain. Lord Sackville will never have another diplomatic appointment."

HE HAS NOTHING TO SAY.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 29.—The London despatch announcing that Lord Salisbury had telegraphed Lord Sackville that his accession to the peerage would offer sufficient excuse for his retirement from his post at Washington, was shown to Lord Sackville this evening. He read it carefully and they said: "I have nothing to say." When the advisability of a confirmation or denial of the fact was suggested, he replied: "It is very kind of you, but I have nothing to say." To all further questions he returned the same stereotyped answer. All the legation attaches were equally reticent. One of the secretaries said to the representative of the United Press to-night: "Why should the minister or why should we be expected to say anything. The very worst that could be printed or spoken has been published or said. Nothing that we could say now would in any way alter the situation." Secretary Bayard at ten o'clock to-night said that no new facts foreign or domestic bearing on the subject had reached him and therefore he had nothing to say. Late to-night an untraceable rumor reached the hotel lobbies to the effect that a successor to the British Minister has already been appointed.

MINISTER PHELPS AT HATFIELD.

LONDON, Oct. 29.—Hatfield House, the seat of Lord Salisbury, is surrounded by English and American special newspaper reporters who persistently dog the movements of the Premier and Minister Phelps, who is his guest. The visit of Mr. and Mrs. Phelps to Hatfield House was arranged long ago to take place somewhat later than the present time, but the Sackville incident having occurred, Mr. Phelps took advantage of his engagement with the premier to enjoy his hospitality, and went almost immediately to Hatfield to discuss the conduct of the British minister to Washington. Although nothing definite is known, it is expected that when Mr. Phelps returns to London he will bring with him the premier's assurance that Lord Sackville will be recalled at once. As usual at Hatfield, while the premier is at home, the week ends with a great party, and the delicacy of Mr. Phelps' position as the bearer of a protest against the flagrant officiousness and want of discretion on the part of the British representative to America, has not stood in the way of Mr. and Mrs. Phelps joining in the social civilities and fully enjoying the festivities of the occasion, though Lord Sackville is by no means without partisans in the controversy over his action.

THE PRESIDENT INTERVIEWED.

NEW YORK, Oct. 28.—The World's Washington correspondent telegraphs an interview with the President this evening upon the subject of Sackville West. The President declines to say what had been done; he said "there must be no unseemly haste; all due dignity and regard for amenities that must prevail between two governments friendly to each other must be observed. The people must be patient and they must be assured that everything has been done that we consistently could do." The President was asked if he thought the publication of the Sackville letter would have any effect upon the result of the election. His reply was guarded; he said: "It is quite impossible for me to judge accurately, but I have every confidence in the intelligence and good sense of the people and do not think they will be mislead by an episode of this character." He also said he could not comprehend how a British Minister could have failed to understand the full intent of the letter of enquiry which entrapped him. The President declined to answer a direct question as to whether any demand had been made on the British Government for Sackville's recall.

EXCITEMENT IN CALIFORNIA.

POMONO, Cal., Oct. 29.—The excitement over the Murchison affair is great. Four detectives are at work on clues. General Barnum, of the national Democratic committee, has sent word to spare no expense in revealing Murchison's identity, and especially to ascertain if Patrick Egan had anything to do with the authorship of the letter.

CANADIAN NEWS.

The Typhoid in Montreal.

MONTREAL, Oct. 29. — Despite the official denials that there is no typhoid epidemic in the city, hospital statistics show there are 79 cases in the city distributed in the three hospitals. This is more than in any period for many years.

The Crofters Happy and Prosperous.

KINGSTON Oct. 29.—Hon. Mr. Kirkpatrick, who has returned from British Columbia, says that Long, a member of the Imperial parliament, visited the crofters and found them happy and prosperous.

FROM THE NORTH.

Mining News From Lorne Creek Not Roseate.

A pioneer miner who arrived here on Sunday last per steamer Barbara Boscowitz, states that he left Lorne Creek on the morning of the 18th inst. and reached the mouth of the Skeena on the evening of the 19th, making a rapid passage in a canoe down the tortuous and somewhat treacherous stream. The stage of the river was favorable for such exits from the mines; but little snow had fallen on either bank and only a slight frost had been experienced. Our informant states that the outcome of the past season's operations on Lorne creek do not justify a gold fever in that locality, although some claims have paid working expenses. The white mining population of the Skeena and its tributaries has not exceeded forty all told, and of that number only eight or nine have confined their attentions strictly to Lorne creek. King and Bone, who bought out the Dry Gulch, were fluming and their claim bids fairly well. The "Short Bend" claim owned by Dave French has paid working expenses for the season, but scarcely anything more. Messrs. King, Bone and Atchison will winter on Lorne Creek and they will probably be the only white men there to participate in a hermitage. "Johnny" Bryant, well-known to northern miners, will come out from Lorne Creek by first opportunity and arrive here per next direct steamer. Our informant states that all is quiet amongst the Indians—grievances settled. Special Constable Washburne is at Essington. The wreck of the steamer Caribo Fly was passed during night time, but it is understood that her position is unchanged and that all her cargo of salmon has been successfully discharged from her.

CAPITAL NOTES.

Appointment of the New Supreme Court Judge.

Hon. Mr. Patterson, the Ontario Judge of Appeal, Selected—Customs Collectors Notified to Stop Fruit Coming from the South—The Banquet to Hon. Mr. Pope—New Box Cars for the Intercolonial.

(From Our Own Correspondent.)

OTTAWA, Ont., Oct. 29.—Hon. Mr. Patterson, the Ontario judge of appeal, has been appointed to the supreme court vacancy. Jas. Maclennan, Q.C., Toronto, will fill Patterson's vacancy. Both gentlemen are reformers. The latter is Mowat's partner. This is an instance of the government's policy to appoint the best men for the judiciary.

Customs collectors will be notified to stop fruit coming from the infected fever districts of the Southern States.

Sir John and seven ministers have gone to attend the banquet to Hon. Mr. Pope.

Two hundred new box cars have been ordered by the Intercolonial to meet the growth of traffic.

THE ABBOTT OPERA SEASON.

The Four Beautiful Operas to be Produced by this Great Company.

The four operas selected for production in Victoria by the Emma Abbott Grand English Opera Company undoubtedly make up a quartette of the most beautiful and melodious works ever given to the lyric stage by musical genius. They are works, too, in which the Abbott Company appear to the best advantage, and as the entire company, headed by that incomparable empress of song, Emma Abbott, will appear at each performance, a great musical feast can be expected.

As "Leonora," in Verdi's melodious opera, "Il Trovatore," the opening opera, Emma Abbott, the prima donna of the people, has made an artistic reputation that will ever be one of the brightest memories of the lyric stage. Her impersonation of the fair Italian maiden, who loved with all the fervor and intensity of passion, her wondrous dramatic action, and her marvelous vocalization, have made this role peculiarly her own. All operagoers have an abiding affection for this grand, romantic story—the crowning work of Verdi's brilliant career as a composer, as it is certainly the most beautiful garland ever woven of poesy and song to be cast on the grave of Love. In this opera one finds the richest harmonies and the most florid musical coloring, the leading arias having ever held the foremost place in the hearts of the people. As produced by the Emma Abbott Grand English Opera Company, with its brilliant galaxy of lyric stars and its grand chorus and orchestra, greatly augmented since last season, it is a masterly musical and dramatic stage presentment, in which Emma Abbott appears to the best advantage.

The grand opera "Rose of Castile," by Balfe, is a beautiful and romantic love story laid in Spain in which caste Emma Abbott appears as the Queen of Spain. This opera is full of rich oriental coloring both as to music and as to costumes. The music is much in the same vein as that of the "Bohemian Girl," which will be given on Wednesday night. The "Bohemian Girl," it is needless to say has taken such a hold on the affections of the people that it will live forever, abounding in such beautiful gems as "I Dreamt I Dwelt in Marble Halls," "Bliss Forever Part," "Fair Land of Poland," "The Heart Bowed Down," and the "Gypsy Chorus." As Arline in this opera, Emma Abbott gives us one of her most charming impersonations.

The farewell performance will be Gounod's "Faust," one of the grandest works ever written and in fact generally considered the most popular lyric opera of the century. In the famous role of Marguerite, in which she most adequately meets the ideal of the composer Emma Abbott has had but few equals. In this character the great Diva is lost sight of entirely and the audience sees only the ideal Gretchen, fresh in her youthful beauty, innocent and tender—a pure, spotless and simple heart, a lily still wet with the morning dew,—then the impassioned lover, and finally the tempest-torn, distracted being who, at the last is saved from the clutches of the evil one and borne heavenward by rejoicing angels.

The other parts in the opera are strongly cast. The Spanish tenor Michelena is renowned as Faust, Lizzie Annandale, the charming contralto, makes a most artistic Siebel, Pruette, the baritone, is seen at his best in Valentine and in the great role of Mephistopheles Broderick, the young American basso profundo, is unequalled. Signor Tomasi, that most skilful and experienced musical director, will wave the baton that directs the most powerful and effective chorus and orchestra that ever appeared in English opera in this city. The season sale opens to-day and the general ticket sale to-morrow at M. W. Waitt & Co.'s store.

CABLE NEWS.

News Received That Henry M. Stanley and His Entire Expedition Have Been Massacred.

Gladstone Yearning for the Recurrence of a General Election, Which He Believes He Will Compel.

Socialistic Party in Germany Stronger Than Ever—Death of Princess Helene, of Waldeck.

Parnell's Suit Against the "Times."

LONDON, Oct. 29.—The fact that Parnell's disclaimer of having sent the cheque for £100 to Frank Byrne has not been included in the Irish leader's case against the Times in the Scotch courts, has excited a great deal of comment and will militate more against popular sympathy with him in England than anything the Times has embodied in its charge. Concerning the omission, Mr. Frank Lewis, Mr. Parnell's solicitor said to-day the neglect which included his client's denial in the affidavits comprising his case, was a complete surprise to himself as well as to Mr. Parnell, who had written to his legal advisers in Edinburgh and was impatiently awaiting an explanation of their course. If the commission finds in favor of Parnell, little harm can be done by the omission since the decision of the judges will practically establish a final verdict; but it is assumed that the strongest possible case should be made out in view of the possibility, not to say probability, that testimony may be forthcoming the character of which neither party at the present moment has any knowledge. Michael Davitt disputes Attorney-General Webster's quotations of his speeches at various meetings in 1885, and appeals through the Freeman's Journal, to chairmen of those meetings to furnish rebutting testimony. He is at present actively engaged in securing such testimony, and will offer to the commission evidence so completely at variance with the statements of Sir Richard Webster as to time, place and circumstances, etc., that the misinformation of the attorney-general will be glaringly apparent.

Gladstone Confident.

LONDON, Oct. 29.—Mr. Thos. Power O'Connor took a long walk and afterwards had luncheon with Gladstone at Hawarden to-day. Gladstone expressed himself as filled with hope and confidence and yearning for the recurrence of a general election, which he believes he will soon be able to compel.

An Anti-Slavery Movement.

LONDON, Oct. 29.—A Berlin dispatch to the Standard states that negotiations in relation to African matters will be opened by England with Germany, and that the two governments have agreed to take similar action against slavery.

The Duke of Nassau Will Abdicate.

LONDON, Oct. 29.—It is stated on good authority that the Duke of Nassau, owing to his advanced age, will abdicate the throne of Luxemburg in favor of his son William.

A Flimsy Excuse.

LONDON, Oct. 29.—The Archbishop of Carlovitz, who approved the divorce of King Milan from Queen Natalie, has suddenly resigned his see on the plea of ill health.

Found Guilty of Fraud.

DUBLIN, Oct. 29.—Matthews & Press, Belfast tea merchants, were on Saturday found guilty at the Wicklow assizes of complicity in frauds on the Equitable Life Assurance Society of New York and sentenced to nine months' imprisonment.

Socialist Celebration.

BERLIN, Oct. 29.—The social democrats of Germany secretly celebrated the centennial of the passage of the anti-socialist laws, meetings being held in many places last week. Under these laws it was shown by the statistics presented that six hundred socialists had been expelled; nine thousand domiciliary visits had been made by the police; hundreds of newspapers had been prosecuted; 1,900 books and pamphlets had been prohibited, and three hundred clubs and other organizations dissolved, and thousands of persons had been tried and sentenced. Nevertheless, it was shown by documentary and other evidence that the socialist party in Germany is stronger than ever.

Did Not Shake Hands with the Mayor.

BERLIN, Oct. 29.—The government and opposition newspapers are blaming each other for the Emperor's anger regarding the articles printed about his family in the National Zeitung, owing to which Emperor William left the municipal delegation coldly. The annual presentation was omitted and neither did he shake hands with the mayor.

Death of Princess Helene.

BERLIN, Oct. 29.—Princess Helene died on Saturday at Drolsen, the capital of the principality of Waldeck, of which her husband, George Victor, was the reigning prince.

France and the Vatican.

BERLIN, Oct. 29.—The Germania (Catholic) states that a letter urging the necessity of a good understanding between France and the Vatican has been sent by the Pope to President Carnot.

Stanley's Fate.

LILLE, France, Oct. 29.—The Echo du Nord states that the president of the Geographical Society of Lille has received news from Africa that Henry M. Stanley and his entire expedition have been massacred with the exception of two men.

A Royal Betrothal.

VIENNA, Oct. 29.—It is stated that while the Grand Duke Paul, of Russia, visits Greece he will probably be betrothed to Princess Alexandria of Greece.

The Germans in Zanzibar.

ZANZIBAR, Oct. 29.—It is reported here that Italians and Tomulins are fighting at Kismayu. Three German messengers have been murdered on the coast, while en route to the Nipwapawa settlers. A naval garrison has been established at Bagomayo by the German admiral.

A Plotter Arrested.

ST. PETERSBURG, Oct. 28.—The Minister of the Interior has received a telegram from a minister of the Imperial court, stating that five minutes before the Czar arrived at Kutais en route from Tiflis, Euxine Kouban, a Cossack disguised as an officer, was arrested, having on his person several explosives, besides some poison in gelatine capsules. When taken into custody the man attempted to swallow poison. Some years ago the prisoner was expelled from the University of St. Petersburg for some imaginary political offence, and his career ruined. He was one of the founders of the revolutionary society in Southern Russia, the other members of which were arrested at Simperopol.

Aid for the Sufferers.

ROME, Oct. 29.—Emperor has donated $1,000 to the families of the victims of the Grassano accident. The announcement of the contribution has created great enthusiasm here.

Temperance in Belgium.

LONDON, Oct. 28.—Belgians of all political parties are actively working together in the cause of temperance, but do not appear to be making much progress. A large number of meetings have been held lately throughout the country at which the cause has been ably presented by orators of national reputation, but the number of converts made has been small. An immense national meeting, composed of representatives of all temperance organizations in Belgium, was held at Tournay to-day. Resolutions were passed demanding in strong terms a thorough reform in the manufacture and sale of alcohol. The promoters of the crusade against the sale and use of spirits intend to organize additional congresses in order to bring a pressure upon the government which shall result in reform legislation.

Death of an Aged Divine.

LONDON, Oct. 28.—Rev. Jos. Fleming died at Troon, Scotland, to-day, aged 96 years. He had been a minister seventy years and conducted religious services to the last. He was the author of numerous theological works and was an associate and co-worker with Dr. Thomas Chalmers in theological literature.

Refused His Liberty.

DUBLIN, Oct. 28.—Jeremiah Sheehan, member of parliament for South Kerry, who was arrested yesterday for conducting a meeting of Lord Kenmore's tenants, was offered his release on bail if he would promise not to make speeches pending his trial, but the offer was refused and he was taken to Tralee jail.

Birmingham Civic Election.

LONDON, Oct. 29.—The municipal elections which will take place Birmingham on Nov. 1st, are looked forward to with intense interest. The conservatives and unionists having combined to assist the liberals. The conservatives have candidates in each of the sixteen wards, but in nine wards the liberals will make no contest. In five wards now held by the liberals the candidates of that party are opposed by unionist and in two held by the unionists, the liberals hope for victory. The declaration of the result of the elections before Mr Gladstone's proposed visit to Birmingham is expected by the tory-unionist coalition to have an important effect in lessening the force of the ex-premier's argument.

THE RAILWAY WAR.

Judgment in Favor of the Plaintiffs—The Injunction Will Continue.

The Government Undecided What Course to Pursue—A Cabinet Meeting Will Be Called Immediately—The Judgment a Surprise to All.

(From Our Own Correspondent.)

WINNIPEG, Oct. 29.—Judge Killam delivered judgment on the second injunction case of the C. P. R. to restrain the Northern Pacific from crossing their line. His lordship reviewed the whole case and delivered a lengthy judgment in favor of the plaintiffs. The injunction will therefore continue in force until the supreme court deals with the case. The Government are undecided what course they will take, but a cabinet meeting will be called immediately. The judge's decision, which overrides the judgment of the Chief Justice, was a great surprise to all, as it was thought certain the injunction would be again dissolved.

THE EMPEROR AT HAMBURG.

EMPEROR WILLIAM AT HAMBURG.

HAMBURG, Oct. 29.—Emperor William arrived here to-day. He was received by generals in undress uniform, by the senators and by the municipal authorities. His reception by the people was very enthusiastic.

KAISER AND CHANCELLOR.

BERLIN, Oct. 29.—The Emperor on his return from Hamburg was met at Friedrichsruhe this evening by the fire brigade, which formed a guard of honor. He arrived at 8 o'clock and was welcomed by Prince Bismarck. The meeting of Kaiser and Chancellor was extraordinarily cordial and the enthusiasm it evoked was manifested by the cheers of the people.

A SABBATH INCIDENT.

A Jealous Courtezan Attacks a House on Douglas Street and Smashes the Windows.

At an early hour on Sunday morning a fallen woman named Kitty Calvert, an inmate of May Williams' house in Trounce Alley, secured the services of a hack and drove to a house of ill repute on Yates street near Douglas. She seized the driver's whip as she alighted, and not being able to gain admittance by the door, she smashed the two front windows in the lower storey and then went around the sides, breaking the windows, during this time using frightful language. The hack-driver endeavored to restrain her, and failing to do so, endeavored to hunt up a policeman. After having demolished the windows to her satisfaction the infuriated woman walked to the street, secured another hack and was driven away.

Yesterday afternoon she was arrested on a warrant, charging her with destroying property to the extent of $25, and was allowed out on bail. The case will be heard in court this morning. The disgraceful incident is one that should compel the police to take action against the keepers of disorderly houses. The den in Trounce alley has a bad record, and it is astonishing that property owners will rent such prominent places to fallen women, and that the surrounding tenants will stand the nuisance. It was in this house a short time ago that a serious stabbing case occurred, and an attack on a police officer made. Several minor rows have taken place there, and it is about time the offence was removed. The good reputation of the city is suffering from i presence.

PREACHERS AND PREACHING.

While Mr. Moody was here he had never to complain that he had a thin audience. Whether the weather was fair or foul, whether he spoke on Sundays or week days, the churches in which he spoke were well filled, and even the spacious rink was at times hardly large enough to hold all who came to hear him. This shows that the people have not lost their interest in religious subjects. The very large attendance may, perhaps, be in part due to the fame of the speaker and to the novelty of his style of speaking. But the novelty had time to wear off before he left, and the almost universal testimony was that the oftener people heard him the better they liked him. What was the secret of his attraction? Mr. Moody, as every one now knows, pays very little attention to the proprieties of the pulpit. There is no "dignity" about him. He does not keep the people off at arm's length. He is not afraid to be natural. He clearly does not believe in that most idiotic of maxims, "Familiarity breeds contempt." He talked to the people about common things in a familiar way. Mr. Moody's topics were what every one thinks about, and what every one, when he is in a serious mood, likes to talk about. And he talked about them in the language that people hear at home and when they are with their intimate friends and acquaintances. His sermons were not elaborate essays on subjects that his hearers generally never bother their heads about. And they were not required to learn a new language before they could understand them. He was neither mystical nor philosophical—that is philosophical in the ordinary sense of the term. He is philosophical and profoundly philosophical with all his apparent simplicity and artlessness. He adapts the means he uses to the ends he desires to accomplish with exquisite skill. This is true philosophy. The other sort, though exceedingly solemn and imposingly pretentious, is, when closely examined, for the most part the merest quackery. Mr. Moody knows the people. He has, become a master in an art which is not taught in schools and which has no place on the curricula of colleges. To the conventional "scholar" he must be a mystery. The student who spends years in schools and colleges, the chief object of which seems to be to increase the distance between him and the "masses" whom he is professedly qualifying himself to teach, if he desires to be successful in the way that Moody and Jones and Spurgeon and Talmadge have been successful, must make haste to unlearn much that he has been taught, and to learn many things which as a student he despised. The way to the heart and the understanding of the people is not through the institutions of learning as they are now conducted. A man may leave them knowing much of books but nothing of men. But the man who makes the teaching of men the profession of his life must by some means get a knowledge of the material on which he is to labor. Every workman, no matter what his trade may be, is convinced of the truth of this, but the average clergyman, though carefully taught many things that are of little use to him in his profession, must pick up his knowledge of men and their thoughts and ways as best he may. The consequence is that very many of them pass their lives in the performance of what they believe to be their duties without understanding the people they endeavor to teach, or being understood by them. This is why the pulpit is becoming unpopular and sermons are regarded as a bore, or as an infliction that for duty's sake or decency's sake must be borne with patience and resignation. Why is it that the word "sermon" has come to be associated with dullness and dryness, and that "sermonizing" is a term that conveys an idea the reverse of pleasant even to the composer of sermons? The reason is that the preacher of sermons has in by far too many cases become a sermonizer. His discourses are not adapted to the understandings, the tastes, and the circumstances of the people; and this is because he has not made the people his study, and consequently does not understand them. His education has not been practical. A false standard of excellence has been set before him, and in his attempt to attain it he has drifted farther and farther from those whom it is his business to teach. There should be technical schools for clergymen and men like Mr. Moody should be their professors. Such schools would be very different from either universities or theological colleges; and we venture to say their most valuable lectures would not be delivered within the walls of a class room. If then our churches are to be well filled and if men and women are to become as eager to hear a religious discourse as they are to see a play, hear an opera or listen to a political speech, clergymen must, like Mr. Moody and other popular preachers, make the human heart their chief study, and speak to the people in the language of every day life, the only language which they fully understand and appreciate.

THE COLONIAL CONNECTION.

Lord Rosebery, on the 10th of the present month, delivered an excellent and very suggestive address to the Chamber of Commerce at Leeds. His object seemed to be to convince the merchants and manufacturers of the United Kingdom that her colonies are of more importance to Great Britain in a commercial sense than most people imagine them to be, and that the time is coming, if it has not already arrived, when the foreign policy of the Mother Country must be shaped with a due regard to their circumstances and interests. He showed that all Great Britain's dependencies are in the vicinity of either some great nation or the colonies of some great nation, and that consequently their concerns are entitled to much consideration at the hands of those who shape the foreign policy of the Empire. He went further, and maintained that they should have, in some way, a voice in the direction of that policy. What he said on this subject is well worth the serious consideration of British colonists as well as British merchants. He said: "I have said that foreign policy in the future will be very largely concerned, and is very largely concerned, with questions of colonial policy, but that raises the question whether you wish to have a colonial policy at all. There was at one time in this country a very great demand, founded on the belief that our colonies were not trading as well with us as they do now, to be free from the responsibility of a colonial empire. I think that demand has to a great extent ceased, [cheers] but the people of this country will, in a not too distant time, have to make up their minds what footing they wish their colonies to occupy with respect to them or whether they desire their colonies to leave them altogether. It is, as I believe, utterly impossible for you to maintain in the long run your present loose and indefinable relations to your colonies, and preserve those colonies as parts of the Empire." To show his hearers that if the colonies severed their connection with the Mother Country even in the most amicable spirit they would not, in a commercial sense, be as valuable to her as they are now he adduced statistics of the trade between Great Britain and a colony that had broken loose, and between her and others with which she still remains united. The average exports from Great Britain to the United States for the last two years has been £24,000,000, counting the population of the Republic to be 60,000,000. This gives about eight shillings a head. The exports to Canada for the same period has averaged £7,000,000 a year. Allowing its population to be 5,000,000, Canada has consumed British goods to the amount of thirty shillings a head during the decade. This makes the Canadian nearly four times as good a customer as the American. Great Britain's trade with Australia, from this point of view, is even better than her trade with Canada. Its population is about three and a quarter millions and it imports every year on an average £24,250 worth of goods or about £7 a head. These figures show that as long as it remains in that relation is of far more value commercially to the Mother Country than a colony after it obtains its independence. It is to preserve the mutually beneficial relations that exist between Great Britain and her dependencies that Lord Rosebery advocates a federation of the Empire. He urges upon his hearers the necessity of making the connection more secure and better defined than it is at present. He tells them that such a change would involve some sacrifices on their part, but that the benefits to be derived are worth anything that they would be likely called upon to make. The nature of the "sacrifice" on the part of the British people he indicated in the following sentences: "You will have," he said, "as I think, to admit the colonies to a much larger share in your affairs than you do at present. You will have to give them a right to prompt the voice of England when it speaks abroad to a much greater extent than you do at present. You must be prepared for demands sometimes unreasonable, such as spoiled children sometimes make. You must be prepared to diminish your own insular freedom of action on behalf of your giant offspring abroad." Lord Roseberry spoke like a man who was thoroughly in earnest. He has given much thought to this scheme of a closer union of Great Britain with her colonies. His concluding remarks were:—"Ever since I traversed those great regions which own the sway of the British Crown outside these Islands, I have felt that there was a cause which merited all the enthusiasm and energy that men could give to it. It is a cause for which any one might be content to live; it is a cause for which, if needs be, any one might be content to die." A cause which has gained for itself the zealous advocacy of so able and so experienced a practical statesman as Lord Roseberry should not be rejected without careful examination by men either in Great Britain or the colonies who desire to be considered intelligent and patriotic.

EDITORIAL COMMENTS.

THE expedition sent out to punish the dwellers on the Black Mountain in northwestern India have met with as great a measure of success as could have been expected. The British force under General M'Queen penetrated their country and in spite of its ruggedness made them feel that they could not murder British subjects with impunity. The mountaineers, it appears, fought gallantly, but the superior discipline of the invading force and the terrible engines of war they brought with them, seems to have convinced them that resistance is hopeless. The villagers that fell into the hands of the British troops were, it is said, treated with great clemency, but we read of their shelling villages at long range. The injuries thus inflicted upon their inhabitants, many of whom were no doubt noncombatants, is not known. But even in "little wars" the innocent and unoffending must suffer. As the French say, you cannot make omelettes without breaking shells. But even in a just and necessary war it is not pleasant to think of the horrors that shelling villages at long range occasions. And the reader is not always sure that the war is either just or necessary. It is said that the resistance of the Black Mountaineers is broken and that there are signs that they are anxious to sue for peace. It is to be hoped that the terms demanded by the invaders will not be unnecessarily hard. We see that the invaders threaten to destroy the crops if the tribe do not submit without delay. Destroying the crops on which the people depend for subsistence seems to people in the enjoyment of peace and plenty to be even harder on the inhabitants than shelling villages at long range.

GERMANS INSULTED.

TO THE EDITOR:—What have Germans done to the editor of the Times that he should allow the ruffian who calls himself the Town Major to insult their nationality? A German's silver is as good I think as an Irishman's brass. How can the Times Company expect Germans to take their paper when they allow that literary bully whom they have hired to abuse people who are as respectable and as temperate as the best of their fellow citizens? I can tell them this: If any German came to this town as disreputable and as foul-tongued as that hireling of their's they would not recognize him as a countryman. I do not care what a fellow like that says or writes about me and my countrymen, but when men who ought to be decent make him their mouthpiece it is time to tell them they are as bad and as ruffianly as he is and that Germans are not so poor-spirited as to pay a newspaper proprietor or anyone else for holding them up to ridicule and applying to them language that would be unbecoming in the mouth of a bar-room loafer. I want the managers of the Times to know that the Germans, like all other intelligent citizens, look upon the vile language and the unprovoked insults that appear over the signature "Town Major", as theirs and not the creature's whom they hire to do their dirty work for them.

A GERMAN.

AN INSULT TO FATHERLAND.

TO THE EDITOR:—The unprovoked insult offered to the German residents of Victoria, as published in Saturday's Evening Times, has created considerable indignation. I am sure, and I think you will bear me out in the assertion, that we Germans are fully as respectable, law-abiding and well-behaved as any class of people or nationality in the city, and we are, therefore, at a loss to account for the insult levelled at us by the person styling himself "The Town Major," who terms us "tobacco-saturated, garlic-smelling, bologna-guzzling, blue-spectacled Teutons." Now, sir; I think it will be conceded we do not deserve these appellations, especially by a comparative stranger in our midst, and I, with many others of my countrymen, believe the editor of the Times is greatly to blame in permitting so flagrant and unjustifiable an insult to the readers of his paper to appear in its columns.

HOME.

There lies a little city in the hills;
White are its roofs, dim is each dwelling's door,
And peace with perfect rest its bosom fills.

There the pure mist, the pity of the sea
Comes as a white soft hand, and reaches o'er
And touches its still face most tenderly.

Unstirred and calm, amid our shifting years,
Lo! where it lies, far from the clash and roar,
With quiet distance blurred, as if thro' tears.

Oh, heart that prayest so for God to send
Some loving messenger to go before
And lead the way to where thy longings end.

Be sure, be very sure, that soon will come
His kindest angel, and through that still door
Into the infinite love will lead thee home.

—E. R. Sill.

Shoes in the Middle Ages.

In the Middle Ages shoes of an extravagant length became popular. In the reign of Richard II the tips of some reached to the knee, to which they were secured by gold and silver chains. The upper parts were frequently cut to imitate church windows. Such shoes were called "Crackows," after the city of Cracow. They were introduced into England in the reign of Richard II by John, the grandfather of his queen. Several bulls were issued against these extravagances, but long toed shoes held their own for nearly 300 years.

The English parliament at one time regulated by act not only the quality of the leather, but the number of stitches to be taken in making every shoe. In 1463 parliament prohibited the making of any shoes "for the unprivileged classes" with points more than two inches long. The top boots, so familiar to us in the pictures of the early Puritans, were introduced in the Sixteenth century.—Philadelphia Times.

Rinsing Out Poisons.

A curious and novel method of saving life in certain cases of poisoning has been originated by Dr. Carlo Sanquirico, of Sienna. By largely increasing the volume of the blood, which can be done by injecting into the arteries saline solutions to the amount of about 8 per cent. of the weight of the animal, the poisons are actually rinsed out and eliminated from the system. In this way the lives of dogs and guinea pigs were saved after being dosed with deadly amounts of strychnine, chloral, alcohol, aconitine, paraldehyde caffeine and urethan. With certain other poisons, as morphine, curarine and nicotine, the method failed. It is not at all impossible that this discovery may introduce an improved treatment, not only for cases of poisoning, but for certain diseases.—New York Mail and Express.

The Italian Bootblack's Discovery.

The march of improvement is still onward, and the Italian bootblack has caught its step. A gentleman who wished to have his understanding brightened took his seat in the chair of an enterprising son of Italy and soon had one of his shoes adorned with a nice patent leather shine. When the artist completed his work he took from the drawer of his box a piece of canton flannel about six inches wide and a foot long. Firmly grasping its ends he applied its woolly side to the tip of first the right and then the newly shined boots, and rubbed them up until the polish on them was as smooth as that of the patent leather.

"It maka the shine vera nice," he explained, as he pocketed the nickel.—New York Evening Sun.

The Study of Shorthand.

Nothing, in my judgment, surpasses the study of shorthand for mental training. It is, in its very essence, an acquirement that lies far outside of the mental limits attainable by idiocy, and the application of its principles calls for the constant exercise of a greater and steadier power of concentration than the technicalities of any other known accomplishment. The fastest writer is habitually, on the average, from six to a dozen words behind the speaker, and to carry these in the mind, while at the same time executing multifarious stenographic intricacies upon the paper, is a feat which can hardly be said, with truth, to lesser the brain's retentive faculty.—A. E. Leon in The Writer.

When Buying Wearing Apparel.

It is astonishing to observe how few people understand the common rules of measurement in purchasing wearing apparel. For instance, a man will buy a coat that is a "size" too small or too large. A "size" smaller or a "size" larger is what he probably needs, but he does not know what a "size" is. Well, a "size" in a coat is an inch, a size in underwear is 2 inches, a size in a sock is 1 inch, in a collar 1-2 an inch, in a shirt 1-2 an inch, in shoes 1-6th an inch, pants 1 inch, gloves 1-4 of an inch, and in hats 1-8 of an inch. Very few purchasers ever understand the schedule named.—Globe-Democrat.

Prevention of Evaporation.

A Colorado farmer recommends a somewhat novel method of preventing the loss of water by evaporation from open tanks or ponds. It consists in giving the surface of the water a thin coating of oil, and was successfully adopted by him during the unusual drought of last summer. He demonstrates the correctness of his theory by filling two vessels of equal size with the same depth of water and pouring a few drops of oil on the water of one. In due course the water in the other vessel will entirely evaporate, while the one that was oiled shows no loss.—Chicago Times.

What "Islam" Means.

"Islam" is the favorite word among the Mohammedans, by which they designate their own religion. It means absolute, unquestioning submission to the will of God, especially as this is revealed in the Koran and in the traditions of Mohammed.—The Gospel in All Lands.

Musical Item.

Visitor—Your little girl plays nicely on the piano. Perhaps she has dormant genius.

Father—For heaven's sake, keep quiet. Don't wake it up.—Texas Siftings.

The people of Tokio, Japan, have taken to eating horseflesh, and there is quite a demand for it.

Whenever a sentence beginning with "and" will make complete sense without the "and," it should be discarded.

A Warning.

The modes of death's approaches are various, and statistics show conclusively that more persons die from diseases of the Throat and Lungs than any other. It is probable that everyone, without exception, receives vast numbers of Tubercle Germs into the system and where these germs fall upon suitable soil they start into life and develop, at first slowly, and is shown by a slight tickling sensation in the throat and if allowed to continue their ravages they extend to the lungs producing Consumption, and to the head causing Catarrh. Now all this is dangerous and if allowed to proceed will in time cause death. At the onset you must act with promptness; allowing a cold to go without attention is dangerous and may lose you your life. As soon as you feel that something is wrong with your Throat, Lungs or Nostrils, obtain a bottle of Boschee's German Syrup. It will give you immediate relief.

Black Dress Materials a Specialty.

Ladies who wear Black from choice will always find the most varied selection at the CITY HOUSE. *

Haunted by Eiffel's Tower.

Eiffel's tower threatens to throw Gen. Boulanger, the Arc de Triomphe and the dome of the Invalides into the shade. It dominates everything in the city just now, and when you look out of the window of your house or hotel or gaze from the top of a monument at panoramic Paris the new Babel looms in your eyes as the biggest thing of all. Even when you close your window or come down from your monument you have not done with the colossal atrocity. It pursues you like a phantom. The tremendous spider's web of reticulated metal haunts you in your dreams until, instead of fancying that you dwell in marble halls, like the heroine of the "Bohemian Girl," you have annoying notions as you lie asleep that you are knocking your head against metal girders or climbing up enormous staircases of iron, compared to which Jacob's famous ladder was a prehistoric sham.—Paris Cor. London Telegram.

Past Its Experimental Stages.

Everywhere, anywhere, without a particle of dust, offensive odor or disagreeable noise, the electric motor can be set to work, and while it will bring the substance of the thing wanted, it will leave behind everything that can give offense. The electric motor has passed its experimental stages, and the day seems to be rapidly approaching when every house will find something for it to do in lifting burdens from floor to floor, and performing every labor that can be done by machinery. Manufacturers have not yet begun to construct motors ornamented with gold leaf, mother of pearl and precious stones to rock cradles in the nurseries, but these requirements will come in time.—New York Sun.

Doesn't Mind It at All.

M. Jules Ferry enjoys being caricatured, and assiduously collects and preserves all such pictures of him. When he was on his way to the congress at Versailles at which M. Carnot was elected president, a street hawker, not recognizing him, thrust before his face a particularly savage cartoon on his own presidential ambition. "No, I thank you," said M. Ferry, after taking it in his hand and looking it over with a smile, "I have a copy of that one already."—New York Tribune.

A BY-LAW,

To give effect to the Statute changing the title of the Councillors to that of "Aldermen."

WHEREAS, BY THE ACT OF 51 VICTORIA, Chap. 21, entitled "An Act to amend the Municipalities' Act, 1881, and amending Act," section 1, it is enacted as follows:—

1. On and after the passage of this Act, the Councillors of the Cities of Victoria, New Westminster and Nanaimo shall be styled Aldermen, and the Municipality Act, 1881, and Acts amending the same, are hereby amended by substituting the word "Alderman" in lieu of the word "Councillor," wherever the same is used in the said Acts in connection with the said cities.

BE IT THEREFORE ENACTED by the Council of the Corporation of the City of Victoria, as follows:

1. The "Council By-Law," and all other now existing By-Laws, containing any reference to the Councillors of the City of Victoria, are hereby amended by substitutnig the word "Alderman" in lieu of the word "Councillor," and the word "Aldermen" in lieu of the word "Councillors," wherever the same are used in any of such By-Laws in connection with the said Councillors.

Passed the Municipal Council the 29th day of August, A. D. 1888.

An Explanation.

What is this "nervous trouble" with which so many seem now to be afflicted? If you will remember a few years ago the word Malaria was comparatively unknown,—to-day it is as common as any word in the English language, yet this word covers only the meaning of another word used by our forefathers in times past. So it is with nervous diseases, as they and Malaria are intended to cover what our grandfathers called Biliousness, and all are caused by troubles that arise from a diseased condition of the Liver which in performing its functions finding it cannot dispose of the bile through the ordinary channels is compelled to pass it off through the system, causing nervous troubles, Malaria, Bilious Fever, etc. You who are suffering can well appreciate a cure. We recommend Green's August Flower. Its cures are marvelous.

On Wednesday afternoon the Spanish brig Almogavar was capsized by wind in New York harbor. In falling over the brig fell upon a passing tug, which was badly damaged. The brig sank. She carried no ballast which led to her capsizing so easily.

Saturday was the last day for registration in New York city. During the preceding four days 286,557 people registered.

LOCAL AND PROVINCIAL.

The Mexico's Freight.

The steamship Mexico's brought 1,313 tons of freight, divided as follows: For Victoria, 183 tons; Vancouver, 360 tons; Port Townsend, 27; Seattle, 533 tons; and Tacoma, 220 tons.

Naval.

H.M.S. Espiègle, Capt. Clarke, will go to Vancouver to-day. She will remain at the Inlet all Friday, when she will go to Comox for a short cruise. Mr. C. A. Vernon will sail in the ship as the guest of Capt. Clarke.

The Schooner "Auraunh"

Capt. Sieverd the other day forwarded the last of a series of documents to the British minister at St. Petersburgh, setting forth his claim for the illegal seizure of the schooner Auranah on the Russian coast. The captain is confident that he will establish the validity of his claim.

Funeral.

The mertal remains of the late Mrs. F. G. Walker were consigned to the grave on Sunday afternoon. The funeral took place from Capt. Revely's residence, Saanich road, the services at St. John's Church being read by the Rev. Percival Jenns. The casket containing the remains was covered with floral offerings.

The Steamer Beaver.

Messrs. Llewellyn & Swift, of Vancouver, have obtained the contract to float the steamer Beaver, which lies on the rocks at the entrance to Burrard Inlet. The work will be carried on by means of scows, and the contractors anticipate no trouble in floating the veteran steamer once the scows are floated in position.

Provincial Police Court.

The prisoner Johnson, alias Nelson, who is charged with burglarizing the residence of Mr. Dyer, North Saanich, was given a preliminary hearing yesterday morning before Robert Ward, Esq., J. P. He was committed for trial, and in the afternoon was brought before Mr. Justice Gray under the Speedy Trials Act. He pleaded guilty and will be sentenced today. To-morrow morning he will be brought up for examination on a second charge of breaking into the residence of Mr. Isaac Hurd, South Saanich.

The Religious Awakening.

On Sunday evening the Victoria Theatre was filled to the doors and many were turned away. After music by the grand union choir under the leadership of Mr. Brown, Rev. Donald Fraser led in prayer and Mr. Studd, D. L. Moody's faithful co-worker, delivered a practical and impressive sermon, his theme being the parable of the rich man and Lazarus. The discourse was listened to attentively and evidently sank deep into the hearts of many in the audience. The revival services will be continued every evening this week in the Pandora street church.

Fast Time.

The British bark Kaisow, Capt. Wm. Davies, arrived from Bangkok, Siam, yesterday morning with a cargo of 1,200 tons of paddy for the Victoria Rice Mills. She now lies in the harbor at Esquimalt and will remain in port about one month. Leaving Bangkok on August 26th she was delayed at the start by unfavorable winds and weather, but her time from land to land will stand on record as one of the fastest accomplished by a sailer for some time. She made the run from the coast of Japan to Cape Beale in exactly nineteen days, nothing of importance occurring during the entire voyage. The distance covered in nineteen days is about 4,000 miles.

Evangelist Moody at Vancouver.

Mr. D. L. Moody commenced his evangelical work at Vancouver on Sunday evening. He will remain in that city for one week, and will then spend a week in Westminster, after which he will visit Washington Territory. To a representative of the News-Advertiser Mr. Moody said he was very much pleased with his experience in Victoria. Speaking generally, he found no diminution of the interest in evangelical work now as compared with when he started, and as an instance, at Victoria, in proportion to the population, the attendance and interest were as great as ever he knew. He liked the people of Victoria very much, and was well satisfied with his visit to the province.

The Police Court.

William, a West Coast Indian, was charged before Hon. A. N. Richards, police magistrate, yesterday morning with assaulting one Ah Lung, a Chinaman, "with intent to do grievous bodily harm." He was fined $10 and costs, or in default committed to the lock-up for two months. A plain and inoffensive drunk paid over the usual five dollars for having made a fool of himself. The bridge case loomed up as usual, of course; this time a gentleman who failed to restrain the spirits of his restive steed while passing over Rock Bay bridge paying his $5 into the treasury. The defendant said he was a practical bridge builder, and any bridge that was so shaky that it would not be safe if a person drove over except on a walk, in his opinion should be torn down and a new one built at once.

A Sneak Thief in the Toils.

Yesterday morning Police Constable Thomas while on duty noticed a man named George Taylor, a character who is generally known as Cockney George among his associates, wearing a good, new overcoat which was not exactly in harmony with his other garments. The officer thinking that George could not have procured his good clothes honestly, reported at the police station, and while a warrant for Taylor's arrest on suspicion was being made out, Mr. Gilman, proprietor of the Brown Jug Hotel on Government street, came in to report the loss of his overcoat. A warrant was issued at once and Taylor arrested with the overcoat on his back. He will figure in the police court this morning. Taylor was arrested on Saturday afternoon suspected of the larceny of a pair of boots from James Larman, Johnson street. The loser of the boots could not swear that he was the man who took them and he was released. His record is not an enviable one.

The Coast Fisheries.

Capt. C. D. Grant, of the schooner Oriel, has returned to Westminster from a voyage of discovery among the northern waters. The Oriel left Westminster on August 8th and sailed direct to Cape Scott, the extreme northwest point of Vancouver Island. She sailed thence to Hope Island, which lies a short distance off the mainland. Hardy Bay, Bull Harbor and other places were visited, and everywhere Capt. Grant found silver salmon in abundance and halibut in paying quantities. Close to Hope Island a magnificent halibut bank was discovered in sixty-five fathoms of water. Not being prepared for such deep fishing, Indians had to be employed; but enough fish were obtained to pay all expenses of the trip and a neat profit besides. Speaking of the prospects of the fisheries Capt. Grant said that their greatness is inappreciable, but steam vessels will be necessary to make the business profitable. Steam schooners, fitted up with every appliance, are the only class of vessels suitable to the fishing, as the currents and tides are so strong that a sailing vessel is almost useless. The best fishing will be found in deep water and vessels should be provided with hawsers not less than seventy-five fathoms long. The fishing is profitable and can be engaged in, not as a speculation, but as a solid money-making business.

The Revival Services.

Pandora street church was well-filled last evening. There was an enthusiastic praise and prayer service for half an hour, after which the service was conducted by the Rev. Mr. Starr. The usual services will be held this afternoon and evening.

A Treat for Nanaimo.

The Rochester Musical Comedy Co. will play in Nanaimo on Wednesday and Thursday evenings, and in Wellington on Friday evening. It will undoubtedly be the greatest attraction that has visited the black diamond city, and should be given big houses.

A Defaulter's End.

C. F. Wootten, who suicided in a room in the Pritchard House recently, has been identified as the man who formerly occupied the position of chief of police of the town of Tulare, California. It is stated that he left that place in May last for British Columbia, being a defaulter for a considerable amount. He left a wife and family behind him.

Gordon Hydraulic Mine.

Wm. Stevenson and D. F. Fee, Jr., returned on Saturday evening from Leech river. Mr. Fee was engaged in constructing flumes at the Gordon Hydraulic mine, the prospects of which are reported to be encouraging. With favorable weather the flumes and ditching will be completed in a couple of weeks and washing will commence. The company's claim extends for a mile along the river, and colors can be obtained in any part of it.

Mysterious Occurrence.

On Saturday last Mr. Fred Beaumont, son of Mr. Wm. Beaumont of Maple Bay, was out hunting deer on a mountain near that place. When in the act of raising his rifle to shoot at a deer he was shot himself. The bullet came from a side direction, glancing across the breast and loading in the shoulder or muscles of the arm. No person was seen in the vicinity, and whether the shooting was accidental or intentional remains unexplained.

Home Again—"C" Battery.

General Middleton, who has reached Ottawa from the Pacific coast, expressed himself satisfied with the condition of the militia at Victoria. "C" Battery, he says, is in a high state of efficiency. He declined to speak of the site for the fortifications, but said he had never heard of any proposal to abandon the fortifications at Esquimalt. As far as he knew all statements of the kind were untrue. In conclusion, he hoped the barracks for "C" Battery at Victoria would soon be completed.

A Persistent Dun.

An interesting case will come up before the court at Esquimalt to-day. It appears that a boatman there rowed to and from various vessels an officer of Her Majesty's customs, until quite a little bill was run up. The boatman became very persistent in his dunning, and requested his pay at inopportune moments, while his debtor was on the street, in conversation with friends, drinking at the bar, or wherever chance found him. The debtor at last became angered at this persecution and has brought suit against his tormentor.

Injured by a Wounded Buck.

Yesterday a young man named McDonald met with a painful accident while hunting near Goldstream. He had shot a fine buck, which was kicking and struggling on the ground, when he approach the wounded animal, intending to cut its throat. Just as he was about to use the knife, however, the dying buck made a plunge, and with one of its horns badly gashed McDonald's hand. The wound bled profusely, but the young man managed to get to the city, where the wound was dressed by Dr. Jackson. The injury, although not very serious, is of a painful character, and will prevent the use of the hand for some time.

From the North.

The steamer Boscowitz arrived down on Sunday morning from the northern ports with a very light freight. John McDonald, from Vital creek, Omineca, five miners from Lorne creek, Capt. Jemmett and survey party were among the passengers. Snow was falling at Bella Bella when the steamer was there. Capt. Jemmett states that they had only a few days pleasant weather during the whole season, the rain pouring all the time. The reserves at Bella Bella, Bella Coola, and other places were surveyed, however. The schooner Ariel was under sail across Millbank sound, met the steamer Falcon having gone under shelter during stress of weather.

ESCAPED FROM CUSTODY.

Two Sailors Handcuffed Break from Constable Campbell's Protection and Escape.

On the bark Norcross' arrival at this port four sailors deserted the vessel, and were sent to the provincial gaol for safekeeping until the bark was ready to sail for England. Capt. Roop obtained a magistrate's order yesterday, and with Constable Campbell proceeded to the provincial gaol, where the four prisoners were handed over by Warden John. They were handcuffed in pairs, and as soon as two of them, Henry Brett and Francis Sullivan, got to the bottom of the gaol steps they bolted, and, though followed, successfully scaled the fence, and disappeared in the woods, and up to last evening were still at large. The other two sailors also gave leg-bail but were stopped by an accident. They were secured and taken on board the Norcross last evening. Both express great reluctance about proceeding on the voyage, but the law compels them and they have to submit.

MARINE.

Bark California, from Australia, to load lumber for Chemainus, is in Royal Roads.

Steamer Pilot returned to port last evening, having towed the bark Sonoma to sea.

Steamship Mexico arrived from San Francisco at 7 o'clock yesterday morning. It is reported that the Mexico is to be withdrawn from this route and her place taken either by the Walla Walla or the Queen of the Pacific.

U. S. coast surveying steamer Patterson was in the harbor yesterday. She arrived from the north a few days ago and brings news that the revenue cutter Thetis would leave Sitka as soon as a pilot could be obtained from the steamship Idaho.

Hawaiian bark W. B. Godfrey on the 10th October, when sixteen days out from Departure Bay, for Honolulu, when in latitude 28. 30. N., longitude 35. 45. W., encountered a severe gale from the southeast, and was on her beam ends for six hours. She had her starboard bulwarks stove in, besides losing four sails, and arrived at Honolulu in a sad plight.

The Triumphant Three.

A MUSICAL TREAT,

Provided by the Choir of the First Presbyterian Church in Philharmonic Hall.

It was not a very large audience that listened to the concert given in Philharmonic Hall last evening, but it was a very well-satisfied one. Nothing had been left undone to make the concert delightful from first to last. The choir of the First Presbyterian Church, under the leadership of Mr. Brown, rendered three excellent choruses, which spoke volumes for the material of which it was composed, and for Mr. Brown's ability as a director. Mrs. Turnbull sang "At the Ferry," sweetly and effectively, and Mr. Kinnaird won deserved applause by his careful rendition of the "Tempest of the Heart" from Il Trovatore. Prof. Sharp in his selection, a medley of popular ballads with variations, proved himself a thorough musician capable of making his instrument tell of every different emotion, and playing with a master's touch and skill. The audience demanded an encore and would not be satisfied until Prof. Sharpe responded. Mrs. Harris in her solo "Tell Me, Oh Bird" won the heart of her audience at once, her singing being animated, her voice clear, musical, of good compass and under complete control. She was forced to respond to an enthusiastic recall. The singing of Lieut.-Col. Prior is always a treat. Never more so than last evening, when his rich voice was heard, clear, full and strong in Watson's beautiful song, "Anchored." An encore was demanded, loudly demanded, but not obtained. Evidently Lieut.-Col. Prior, like many others, sees what a nuisance the encore custom is becoming. It would be well if it was entirely discontinued, for as long as encores are allowable, they will be given indiscriminately and amateur vocalists will become so disgusted with the demands of a never-satisfied portion of the audience that they will not sing in public at all. Messrs. Grant, Meston, Ledingham and Brown form a strong quartette. Their selection, "The Three Chafers," was a bright, tinkling little bit of melody, that delighted the audience immensely. In the second part, Mr. Robson won applause and an encore by a remarkably fine interpretation of the immortal song, "The Death of Nelson." Miss O'Neil's voice was pure and sweet, a more perfect soprano is seldom heard. In the duett, "Love and War," Messrs. Robson and Brown were greatly appreciated. Both voices are clear, strong and well cultivated; they blend perfectly and the selections were unusually happy. Messrs. Robson and Brown were recalled and responded with "Oh Albion." Prof. Strauss, in his rendition of Wagner-Liszt's "Flying Dutchman," proved himself a wonderful musician, capable of giving expression to the best thoughts of the greatest musician of the world.

Mr. J. G. Brown's solo, "The Village Blacksmith," was but another triumph to the many he has already scored, and in response to an encore his "True till Death," brought the programme to a close. The accompaniments were played in excellent taste, and the entire programme was so delightful that many expressed a wish to listen to another, provided by the same capable caterers to the enjoyment of the public, at a very early date.

THE MUSICAL COMEDY.

The Rochester Musical Comedy Company arrived on the North Pacific last evening, after an exceedingly unpleasant trip; in fact, nearly every passenger on board the staunch steamer was sadly communing with the deep. It was after 9 o'clock when the company reached the theatre, and everything was hurriedly prepared for the musical farce of "Senior and Junior," really the Magic Doll. It was 9:40 before the curtain was rung up, and as a consequence the audience was not large. However, the company gave a most enjoyable performance, and the audience was in the best of good humor throughout.

W. F. Rochester, as the old toy-maker, John Senior Bull, gives a capital representation of the part. His make-up and action throughout were thoroughly in character, and his song, "When the Roses Fade," received an encore.

Miss Freddy Stockmeyer as the domestic Sally Smiles, did a very neat piece of soubrette business. Her singing was good and she is a very clever dancer.

Harry Moore made a very funny John Junior Bull, though the part was somewhat exaggerated.

One of the funniest features of the play was Will H. Bray, in the role of "A Mute." Though having not a line to speak he was constantly appearing and disappearing in all sorts of grotesque situations, to the great amusement of the audience.

The music, especially the concerted pieces, was very well rendered, and the "Doll Quadrille" by Freddie Stockmeyer, Rita Mann, Harry Moore and Harry Connors was done with an abandon that none but animated wax figures could be supposed to assume. The duet also between Miss Rosina Evans and Miss Stockmeyer was especially well done, and received an encore.

To-night the new "Fun on the Bristol" will be given, and every lover of fun and all who desire a good hearty laugh should be present. The company did well under difficulties last night, and will no doubt excel themselves to-night. Go and laugh!

SPORTS AND PASTIMES.

FOOTBALL.

The football match between Westminster and Vancouver teams was played yesterday afternoon, and resulted in a Victory for Westminster, making 7 goals and 2 trys to nothing.

A Warning.

The modes of death's approaches are various, and statistics show conclusively that more persons die from diseases of the Throat and Lungs than any other. It is probable that everyone, without exception, receives vast numbers of Tubercle Germs into the system and where these germs fall upon suitable soil they start into life and develop, at first slowly, and is shown by a slight tickling sensation in the throat and if allowed to continue their ravages they extend to the lungs producing Consumption, and to the head causing Catarrh. Now all this is dangerous and if allowed to proceed will in time cause death. At the onset you must act with promptness; allowing a cold to go without attention is dangerous and may lose you your life. As soon as you feel that something is wrong with your Throat, Lungs or Nostrils, obtain a bottle of Boschee's German Syrup. It will give you immediate relief.

LOCAL BRIEFS.

Steamer Amelia leaves for Nanaimo this morning.

The C. P. N. Co.'s scow is loading water pipes for Vancouver at Spratt's wharf.

A nuisance, in the shape of a very bad smelling poultry yard, is said to exist at the upper end of View street.

The sale of furniture advertised for Oct. 30th by Mr. Geo. Byrnes, has been postponed until the 6th of November.

A deer killed in the neighborhood of Sooke was on exhibition at the Vancouver House yesterday, which weighed 174 pounds.

The steward of the Royal Hospital thanks Mr. A. J. Langley for a parcel of books, and Mr. Meiss for some venison.

The criminal libel case will be continued in the police court this morning at 11:30.

The schooner Theresa, from the black cod banks, is expected in every day.

The Maubury-Boyd Co. return to-night from Vancouver, and to-morrow evening will present the thrilling melodrama "Passion Slave." Seats at Waitt's.

The steamer Dunsmuir on her first trip to Comox made over sixty miles in five and one half hours, calling at two points on the way. This is more than was expected from her.

The catapult must go. A lady residing on Fort street was struck in the face by a stone projected from a catapult in the hands of a youthful sportsman on Sunday morning. The stone inflicted a painful though not dangerous cut.

M. Lelaire's new block on Government street is rapidly nearing completion. The workmen are now engaged in applying the outside coating of cement. The proprietors of the California Hotel will take possession of the new premises on Saturday.

A duo of first-class musicians delighted a large number, who were drawn to the Driard, by their sweet selections last evening. They played almost every class of music, and introduced a number of pleasing novelties on the banjo and guitar.

On the arrival of the Sound steamer last evening one of the passengers, a member of the Rochester Comedy Company, had a narrow escape from falling from the gang plank, owing to the fact that there was no light of any kind where it would be of service to the passengers. It should be provided at once.

Two young swindlers are at present "doing" Victoria, their scheme being a rather new one. They claim to be unable to get work and anxious to get to San Francisco, where they have friends, and finally offer to sell a valuable gold ring—a keepsake—for 50 cents or $1, to get a little money. It is needless to say the ring is as brassy as the sellers.

PERSONAL.

Ald. Coughlan went up to Nanaimo yesterday afternoon.

John Urquhart, of Comox, is registered at the Oriental.

John G. Camp, of Lockport, N. Y., is at the Clarence.

A. McDonald, from Lorne Creek, is registered at the Occidental.

Jas. Laidlaw arrived down on the Louise and is at the Driard.

Rev. Jas. Bryant, Miss Grant and Miss Mina Grant, Toronto, are at the Driard.

Hon. Forbes G. Vernon is expected to return from the Mainland on Wednesday.

George M. Wilson, C. E., returned from Seattle on Saturday and is at the Clarence.

Ald. I. Oppenheimer arrived down on Sunday night and returned to Vancouver this morning.

R. E. Gibson, who has had charge of the bridge contract on the Comox railway, is at the Oriental.

W. Chudley, chief accountant at Welch, Rithet & Co.'s, returned from a holiday at Harrison Hot Springs on Sunday night.

Lord Ennismore was a passenger to Victoria on the Boscowitz, returning from an enjoyable hunting trip. He is now at the Driard.

Captain Jemmett and survey party arrived down by the Boscowitz from Bella Bella, after rather a wet season's work in that district.

George Babbage, formerly of the firm of Moses & Babbage, in this city, has returned from Plymouth, Eng., and was welcomed home by many friends.

Chas. Oppenheimer, wife and two children, arrived yesterday from San Francisco and left this morning for New York via the C. P. R. Mr. Oppenheimer is a brother of Vancouver's Mayor and a former resident of Victoria.

E. B., N. P. and Miss Andrews, of Minneapolis, are spending a week in Victoria sight-seeing. Mr. E. B. Andrews holds an interest in the great Washburn Mills, with a capacity of 7,500 barrels of flour per day, and, with his son and daughter, is on the way to California, where they intend spending the winter.

Hon. Edward Blake and his sons were yesterday the guests of Hon. Robert Dunsmuir, who placed a special train at their disposal, from the windows of which they could form a good idea of the country, while whirling over the line of the E. & N. Railroad. Last evening Mr. Blake and a few friends amused themselves by taking a walk through the Chinese quarter. The honorable gentleman and his sons left for the East on this morning's boat.

On Saturday night, while Attorney-General Blair, of St. John, N.B., was driving at a smart rate from his home to his office in Fredericktown in the darkness, was run into by a team coming in an opposite direction. He was thrown from his carriage and seriously injured in the head. Serious results are feared.

C. H. Lugrin, secretary of the New Brunswick Agricultural Society, estimates the loss at 12 per cent of hay raised in low lands, with a depreciation in value of much of the rest. The oat crop of the season would have been, had no frost or bad weather come, four million bushels. Sixty per cent of oats suffered damage. Forty per cent of buckwheat in the province is lost. It is believed an excellent crop of potatoes may yet be secured in good condition should the weather continue favorable.
